Irish dance, in its traditional form, favors ramrod-straight backs and tightly held arms with the emphasis on feet flying and drilling into the floor, while turning in-out-in-out-and back in again! Founded in 1990 by Chorographer/Artistic Director Mark Howard, Trinity Irish Dance Company was the birthplace of progressive Irish dance, which opened new avenues of artistic expression leading directly to commercial productions such as Riverdance and Lord of the Dance. It all started with Trinity!

A “totally winning, witty and sassy” production (New York Times), these dancers and musicians are constantly pushing the limits and expanding the range of the art in every direction. Trinity is not only the most interesting Irish Dance Company, but is considered as one of the most interesting dance companies of any kind. Their vibrant blaze of movement usually casts a spell on the audience and has them mesmerized for the two-hour production.

Costume changes, different styles, and musical interludes, this troupe can articulate whether they are soloists or performing as a corps. The Trinity Irish Dance Company rewards its audiences with incredible speed and accuracy and a world of detail and sophistication. Showtime on February 22nd is 7:30pm at Boerne Champion Auditorium.
